1 Introduction

The intended users of this document are Assessment Sponsors, TMMi Assessment Service Providers, service providers' employees or associates, independent assessors who wish to be formally recognized by the TMMi Foundation as Accredited Assessors and Accredited Lead Assessors.

The TMMi Foundation publishes a list of all assessors on its website in order to maintain transparency of the individual assessor's status for customers of TMMi related services, TMMi assessment service providers and the assessor community.

The process for becoming recognized as an assessor and the specific qualification criteria for each assessor role are covered in this publication. Note that the TMMi Foundation reserves the right to revise this process and these criteria at any time.

TMMi Assessors will generally be accredited to perform assessments on behalf of an accredited assessment provider using an accredited assessment method, which is compliant with the Test Maturity Model integration (TMMi), the TMMi Assessment Method Application Requirements (TAMAR) and the TMMi Data Submission Requirements (DSR), subject to the meeting the minimum qualification criteria defined below.

TMMi Assessors are expected to perform assessments objectively, meeting the highest level of professional integrity. Although assessors do not represent the TMMi Foundation, their performance of a TMMi assessment reflects upon the TMMi Foundation, their Assessment Service Provider and themselves. These qualification criteria are intended to ensure that TMMi Assessors are suitably qualified and experienced to perform a TMMi assessment to a consistently high standard ensuring that the assessment findings accurately reflect the organization being assessed.

2 Accreditation Process

The following key requirements must be met in order for an assessor to be recognized by the TMMi Foundation.

- The assessor must meet the respective qualification criteria defined for accredited TMMi assessors or accredited TMMi lead assessors in this document hereafter
- A lead assessor shall use an accredited TMMi Assessment Method at formal assessments.

The TMMi Foundation's TMMi Assessment Method (TAM) is accredited to meet these requirements. The TMMi Foundation also accredits third party proprietary assessment methods provided that the assessment method meets these requirements.

- Assessment experience, requiring the assessor to demonstrate their active participation in (formal and/or informal) assessments as demonstrated by the hours recorded on assessments

Note that credit may be granted, at the discretion of the TMMi Foundation, for

- Current assessment experience with other assessment methods and reference models<sup>1</sup>

Also note that it is sometimes possible in specific situations to receive a waiver for a specific defined criterium. Refer to Appendix C for more information on the waiver process.

Individuals who do not meet the criteria set out in this document are unaccredited. Unaccredited assessors may participate in assessments subject to the requirements defined in the TMMi Assessment Method Application Requirements (TAMAR) and as defined in the accredited assessment method used.

If upon appeal, the TMMi Foundation has reached the reasonable judgment that the assessor has acted dishonestly, fraudulently or committed any other act which the TMMi Foundation deems to be incompatible with the duties and trust placed in an accredited assessor the TMMi Foundation may revoke the assessor's accreditation permanently.

5 Independent Providers

Historically all TMMi accredited assessors were affiliated to an accredited Assessment Service Provider (ASP) and through their ASP has access to an accredited TMMi assessment method. The TMMi Foundation will now also allow individuals to achieve assessor status through the completion of relevant training courses and passing of corresponding exams, and be listed as accredited on the TMMi website. Thus the concept of independent assessors has been created.

5.1 Independent Assessor

An independent assessor is a person that complies with the defined assessor criteria but is not affiliated with an accredited TMMi Assessment Service Provider.

An independent assessor has successfully attended a TMMi assessor training and as such understand the TMMi assessment process and requirements as defined in TAMAR. However, an independent assessor typically does not have access to an accredited TMMi assessment method and can use any assessment method that follow the TMMi assessment process. As with any other accredited TMMi assessor, an independent assessor can perform informal TMMi assessments, but cannot perform formal assessments.

Persons that apply to become independent assessor need to comply to the assessor criteria defined in this document and will be listed as follows:

- Assessor ID :
- Name :
- Organization :
- Country :
- Expiry date :

With organization their company name will be listed along with the label independent provider, e.g. “companyXYZ (Independent Provider)”. Upon request of the assessor it is also possible to not list their company name on the TMMi website at their entry. In such case the organization will just be labelled as “Independent Provider”.

The TMMi Foundation shall provide written reasons where the application was deemed not to have met the above criteria such that the assessor may attempt to remedy the issue(s) preventing accreditation.

5.2 Independent Lead Assessor

Building on the previous paragraph, an independent lead assessor is a person that complies with the defined lead assessor criteria, and is not affiliated with an accredited TMMi Assessment Service Provider but has been specially trained in an accredited TMMi assessment method. The independent lead assessor may or may not have access to the accredited TMMi assessment method but will need access to an accredited TMMi assessment method when performing a formal assessment.

Person that apply to become independent lead assessor need to comply to the lead assessor criteria defined in this document and will be listed as follows:

- Lead Assessor ID :
- Name :
- Organization :
- Assessment method :
- Country :
- Expiry date :

With organization their company name will be listed along with the label independent provider and the accredited TMMi assessment method they have been trained in, e.g. “companyXYZ (Independent Provider, TAM)”.

Upon request of the lead assessor it is also possible to not list their company name on the TMMi website at their entry. In such case the organization will just be labelled as “Independent Provider” and mention the TMMi assessment method they have been trained in.

Note, in case an accredited assessor or lead assessor is no longer affiliated with an accredited TMMi Assessment Service Provider, he/she may request to be listed as an independent (lead) assessor following the above for the remainder of the accreditation period.

Appendix A: Assessment Activities

The Assessment Team Leader responsibilities are defined in TAMAR section 3.2.6 Responsibilities and require the participation in all aspects of the assessment.

The TMMi Data Submission Requirements (DSR) describes five types of assessment activities, namely: Planning, Evidence Gathering, Evidence Review, Assessment Reporting and Assessor Reporting. The effort for each activity must be recorded (in hours) for each individual assessor on every assessment.

- Planning: The effort required to complete the planning and preparation activities for the assessment.
- Evidence Gathering: The effort required to complete evidence gathering activities, including interviews, identifying and obtaining of document artifacts and other evidence.
- Evidence Review: The effort required to complete the assessment review activities, including the review of interviews, document artifacts and other evidence to assess the level of compliance with the requirements of the TMMi.
- Assessment Reporting: The effort required to complete the assessment report to be submitted to the sponsor, including preparing presentations and reports documenting assessment ratings (for formal assessments only) and the assessment findings, i.e. strengths and weaknesses for each process area in the scope of the assessment.

Appendix C: TMMi Assessor Waiver Process

Whilst the guidelines defined for accrediting and re-accrediting Lead Assessors and Assessors are clear, there are times when it is possibly and/or necessary to apply a waiver under specific situations. This appendix sets down the process that will allow for a legitimate deviation from the standard criteria.

- 1) When the reviewer of an application feels that a waiver is required to accredit or re-accredit an assessor, in the first instance it is to be discussed with the accreditation chair to agree that consideration for a waiver is justified.
- 2) Once it is agreed a waiver could be appropriate a formal request is written by the reviewer and submitted sent to the chair of accreditation.
- 3) On receipt of the request the accreditation chair will distribute the request by email to the members of the TMMi management executive with a recommendation.
- 4) A majority vote is needed by the TMMi management executive in order to approve the waiver.
- 5) The accreditation chair will formally advise the applicant of the final decision, and will keep a record of submissions and decisions.
